

Summer Gathering: A Tech Innovation Workshop for Educators

August 1, 2016

Morning Workshop: 10 am - Noon

Afternoon Workshop: 1:00 pm - 3:00 pm

Lincoln Square Synagogue

180 Amsterdam Avenue, New York—Classrooms 206 & 207

Educators and educators-in-training are invited to join Director of Education Sara Wolkenfeld and members of the Sefaria team for a day of learning, discovery and brainstorming. In this two-hour workshop, you'll learn how to use Sefaria at an expert level, collaborate with like-minded professionals on your own projects, and think about new ways to leverage Sefaria's technology for teaching and learning.

Whatever setting you teach in or plan to teach in, bring all your questions and ideas about Jewish texts and technology.

Schedule

All participants: Sefaria Training Session

A 45-minute training to help you become a Sefaria expert and give you a sense of some of the new tech features we have in the works for educators.

Breakout option 1: Teaching with Tech

Bring a teaching project or challenge you are currently working on for the new school year. Sefaria facilitators will help you refine your project or challenge through an edtech lense.

Breakout option 2: Jewish Education of the Future

How can technology enhance teaching and learning? Connect with members of Sefaria's team to brainstorm new features and apps that could transform the educational landscape.

A kosher bagel brunch will be served at each session.

Attendance is free with RSVP.

Sign up for either the morning or afternoon workshop by emailing rsvp@sefaria.org.
